Our Eight Activities Connecting People and Idea

International Student Service

JICE supports overseas students from developing countries, the Middle Eastern countries, and other countries, collaborating with respective Japanese universities.

By fully utilizing our overseas and domestic networks, JICE supports recruiting and screening applicants, arranges necessary procedures before students' departure, assists their academic and daily life to obtain academic degrees during their stay in Japan.

JICE thus ensures students to learn many things in Japan so that they could contribute to the future development of their own countries.

International Youth Exchange

JICE manages various kinds of international exchange programs, the short-term invitation / visit programs and exchange activities between Japan and foreign countries for facilitating further mutual understanding. The firsthand exchanges with Japanese students and local people through school visit, home stay and cultural experiences, JICE offers all participants valuable opportunities to deepen understanding about Japan as well as global community consciousness.

Coordinator/ Interpreter Dispatch Service

JICE has expert training coordinators with specialized knowledge encompassing 31 different languages. They work as interpreters for international conferences, training programs, observational sessions and courtesy calls. JICE training coordinators not only translate languages, but also act as bridges and smooth out communication, taking into consideration different cultural and social backgrounds.

JICE also dispatches its training coordinators overseas to act as interpreters for international conferences and other projects.

Project Management Service

JICE connects overseas project sites to affiliated domestic organizations and offers broad support, managing conferences and symposia, and conducting technical training in Japan for effective project management. In addition, JICE can meet diverse needs of the clients with speed and flexibility such as compiling database on development assistance trends.

International Participant Training

JICE provides management support to international training programs for overseas participants. In accordance with client requests, JICE offers aid in developing training plans, managing the progress of training programs, interpretation, escorting participants during their travels and facilitating training comprehension. JICE assists participants in achieving their own objectives, so that Japan's technologies and experiences can help create solutions for problems in their home countries.

Multiculturalism Promotion Service

JICE translates various reference materials for foreign residents, and dispatches lecturers to teach "cultural co-existence" classes at local municipalities. JICE applies its know-how and a body of staff trained in international cooperation to promote the harmonious co-existence of different cultures in local Japanese communities. Drawing on the ample experience of conducting Japanese language courses to improve job readiness of foreign residents, we are looking forward to providing support for the employment of foreign students.

Japanese Language Education

JICE's Japanese Language Course is conducted effectively by experienced instructors so that the participants can master practical Japanese in a short period. Programs are designed for international researchers, business persons, students and residents in Japan with a special attention to meet the requirements of the participants covering useful knowledge of Japanese culture and daily life. We also organize programs conducted overseas.

Social Contribution

We support Education for International Understanding conducted at junior and senior high schools by dispatching lecturers with international experiences. Ahead of Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games we will step up efforts to provide programs for increasing an understanding of diverse cultures and disseminating the knowledge of international cooperation with a particular emphasis on what's happening on the field. We wish to share our knowledge and experience with the society by offering complimentary translation services for multiculturalism promotion as well as by participating in and granting auspices to various international events.
